

Fresh Content

Contributed by Maryke
Friday, 27 June 2008

Do you have a new site? How long will you have to wait before it appears on search engines? The truth is, that it could be several months. If you do nothing, it could be years.

One important thing you should consider: Search engines love fresh content! Is that web-articles assumes you have a website that is SEO friendly. If it is completely designed in flash, it is not. If it contains frames, it is not. If it is made up of images, it is not. This will make things a lot harder. Many websites that are well designed in flash or containing frames are invisible on search engines. Even after 3 years, these sites did not appear anywhere within the search results.

The solution? Here it is: If you don't intend to modify your beautiful flash website, Get fresh content for it! While search engines spider billion of websites, they have to come back and spider your site again and again and get it ranked. To get to this point, they must find fresh content on it.

Not only unspiderable websites. But fresh content is not only recommended when you have a full flash website, personal page, framed page etc... It's also useful for any webmaster who wants his site to be regularly indexed by search engines. web-articles offers free fresh content and, using the most advanced web technologies: RSS (Really Simple Syndicate) and JS, provides Feeds daily updated. This way, your website using our Feeds is daily updated with fresh information and search engines will frequently spider your page.

{cb_avatar}Angelface{/cb_avatar}